Fact sheet about the Workplace Safety and Health (WSH) Awards

The WSH Awards is an annual event held to recognise companies that have achieved excellent WSH performances through sound and effective management of WSH issues at their workplaces. The annual Awards cover several key WSH areas, including performance, best practices and innovative ideas. There is one new award this year for Supervisors. Please see below for the different categories of Awards

- Workplace Safety and Health Performance Awards
 - The award is presented to companies that have achieved commendable safety performance through effective safety and health management systems or processes.
 - At the company level, they are recognised for different levels of achievements - Silver, Gold and Excellence.
 - At the project level, large projects such as construction or shipbuilding projects are recognised in a separate category called Safety and Health Award Recognition for Projects (SHARP).
 - All the winners must achieve:
 - Either no reportable accident in 2008 OR at least one million manhours without reportable accident
 - From 1 Jan 2008 to-date - No accident that caused death or permanent disablement, No new Occupational Disease, No Stop Work Order
 - No reportable accident in 2008 OR At least one million manhours with no accident
 - Has an injury rate below 25% of the industry rate

- Workplace Safety and Health Developer Awards
 - The award is presented to developers who play an active role in ensuring good Workplace Safety and Health (WSH) practices among their contractors.

- Workplace Safety and Health Practices Awards
 - The award recognises companies that have implemented best practices in control measures for various types of workplace safety and health hazards, including noise control, chemical control, working at heights and ergonomics.

- Workplace Safety and Health Officer Awards
 - This award recognises registered WSH officers who have exhibited exemplary attributes that help to achieve excellent safety and health performance for their companies or projects.

- Workplace Safety and Health Awards for Supervisor
 - This Award is organised in collaboration with the Association of Singapore Marine Industries, National Safety Council of Singapore, Singapore Contractors Association Ltd and the Singapore Manufacturers' Federation.
 - The objective of the award is to recognise the valuable contribution by supervisors who supervise or oversee a group of workers and help to cultivate safe and healthy workplaces in Singapore.
 - It also serves to motivate and inspire supervisors to take care of the workers under their charge by improving the safety and health performance in their workplaces.

- Workplace Safety and Health Awards for bizSAFE Star (New for 2009)
 - This award was specially designed for Small and Medium Enterprises that have tapped on the WSH Council programme bizSAFE to improve their WSH systems and processes.
 - Applicants must have attained bizSAFE level 5 and attained accreditation of having put in place a comprehensive WSH Management System. They must also meet the following criteria:
 - From 1 Jan 2008 to-date - No accident that caused death or permanent disablement, No new Occupational Disease, No Stop Work Order
 - No reportable accident in 2008 OR At least one million manhours with no accident
 - Has an injury rate below 25% of the industry rate
