

FACTSHEET ON AIHA ASIA PACIFIC OH + EHS CONFERENCE + EXHIBITION 20011

Event Synopsis

The first-ever conference that addresses the needs of mid-level and senior level environmental, health and safety professionals who practice in the region and around the world. Targeted audience is industrial hygienists, safety professionals, risk management and OEHS professionals looking for solutions to ensure the health and safety of their workers.

About the American Industrial Hygiene Association (AIHA)

AIHA® is one of the largest international associations serving the needs of occupational and environmental health and safety professionals practicing across all aspects of work around the world, including industry, academia, military, government, and more. We:

- are devoted to achieving and maintaining the highest professional standards for our members and all practicing professionals around the world;
- administer comprehensive education programmes that keep occupational and environmental health and safety professionals current in the field of industrial hygiene; and
- operate several highly recognised laboratory accreditation programmes, based on the highest international standards. These programmes help ensure the quality of the data used in making critical worker protection decisions.

Founded in 1939, AIHA® is a nonprofit organisation with 73 chapters. AIHA's 10,240 members are highly educated professionals committed to protecting worker health around the globe.
