Sentosa, State of (Secure) Fun

Sentosa Development Corporation's safety and security efforts and the company's drive towards internalising SGSecure messages to their staff

In June 2018, the eyes of the world turned to Sentosa, our very own State of Fun, when it played host to the historic DPRK-USA Singapore Summit. Sentosa Development Corporation (SDC) shares how they have helped staff, partners and stakeholders to internalise the SGSecure national movement, together with the rest of Singapore.

SGSecure@Workplaces Community Leader Workshops

Equipping WCLs to undertake roles to champion SGSecure

QUICK FACTS:

- * WCLs are nominated by their respective employer/industry associations or unions to champion SGSecure within their business communities during peacetime, to sensitise their peers to the threat, and to engage the ground during crisis.

MOM launched the SGSecure Workplace Community Leaders (WCL) programme in April this year, with the aim of equipping our WCLs with the skills and knowledge to champion SGSecure in their respective industry clusters.

On 18 July, the WCLs were given the opportunity to develop further understanding of the importance of risk management in preventing safety and health incidents through the Workplace Safety and Health Council's bizSAFE Level 1 workshop. Attendees learnt how to include the security element to their organisation/ union's WSH Policy.

Some WCLs also had the opportunity to strengthen their Crisis Communications skills through a workshop organised in collaboration with the Singapore Business Federation (SBF) on 27 July. Through exercise scenarios and relatable cases of workplaces handling crisis situations, the SBF trainer taught WCLs to appreciate key theoretical and operational concepts of effective crisis preparedness planning, crisis management response and crisis recovery.

One attendee shared: "The trainer imparted valuable tips on how we can manage adverse publicity from different perspectives and positions in the workplace, and I can now better understand the importance of strengthening resilience amongst my staff and stakeholders." Overall, both workshops garnered positive feedback.

Upcoming SGSecure Activities

Beyond the workplaces, the wider SGSecure community is also continually preparing themselves for the reality of a terror attack. You can observe the efforts at the upcoming Emergency Preparedness Days organized by the People's Association, with the support of the Home Team:

- 18 August, 9am – 12pm, Ulu Pandan EP Day @ Ghim Moh Market (20 Ghim Moh Road, Singapore 270020)
- 19 August, 9am – 12pm, Jurong Central EP Day @ 497A Jurong West St 41, Singapore 641497
